DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. Figure 1 should be designated by a legend such as --Prior Art-- because only that which is old is illustrated. See MPEP § 608.02(g). Corrected drawings in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The replacement sheet(s) should be labeled "Replacement Sheet" in the page header (as per 37 CFR 1.84(c)) so as not to obstruct any portion of the drawing figures. If the examiner does not accept the changes, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.
2. The drawings are objected to because they fail to include proper labels. Please amend Figure 2 so that it includes text labels for each block shown. Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement-drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the examiner does not accept the changes, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Objections

3. Claim 13 is objected to because of the following informalities: The last two sentences of the claim are unclear. Applicants appear to have inadvertently included the words "the information transfer means". Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

5. Claims 13, 15, 16, 20, and 22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by De La Huerga [Pub No. US 2002/0038392].

Regarding claim 13, De La Huerga shows an arrangement in connection with a patient circuit (Figure 26), the patient circuit having at least one element (140, IV Bag) dimensioned according to the patient and/or configured to operate as a part of the circuit, the arrangement comprising an information transfer means (see paragraphs 109, 142, and 148) and an electronic means (108, pump unit) and a transponder (200) electronically programmed with desired information from the element and/or the circuit, the transponder being attached to the element (paragraphs 138-142 and Figure 6). The information transfer means being arranged to communicate with the transponder, and the electronic means being arranged to carry out desired procedures from the basis of the information obtained from the transponder attached to the element (paragraphs 144, 148, 153, and 154).

As for claim 15, De La Huerca discloses that desired information comprises capacity information and/or identification information (see Figure 6).

Regarding claims 16 and 20, the information transfer means comprises an antenna means and the antenna means is arranged to read information programmed in the transponder (paragraphs 148). It is inherent that a transponder (reader) has an antenna for reading information programmed other tags or transponders.

As for claim 22, it can be seen from the Figure 26 that the element (140, IV bag) is a part of the circuit connections.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

7. Claim 14 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over De La Huerga as applied to the claims above.

Regarding claim 14, De La Huerga does not specifically disclose that desired procedures from the basis of the information obtained comprise calculations. However, De La Huerga discloses that the system includes processors for processing and interpreting information received from the transponder. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention by the applicant that the processors could be used for calculations. This would have been an obvious modification that would give the electronic means to function based on the calculated criteria.

Allowable Subject Matter

8. Claims 1-12 are allowed.

9. Claims 17-19, 21, 23, and 24 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
